

Dean Jamison, PhD

Emeritus Professor of Global Health, University of Washington

Senior Fellow in Global Health Sciences, University of California, San Francisco

Dean Jamison is a Senior Fellow in Global Health Sciences at UCSF and an Emeritus Professor of Global Health at the University of Washington. Jamison previously held academic appointments at Harvard and UCLA and was an economist on the staff of the World Bank where he was lead author of The Bank's World Development Report, 1993. He holds a PhD in economics from Harvard University and was elected to the Institute of Medicine of the U.S. National Academy of Sciences. He recently served as Co-Chair and Study Director of the Lancet Commission on Investing in Health.