

Pascal J. Goldschmidt, MD

Former Dean, Leonard M. Miller School of Medicine, University of Miami Health System (UHealth)

Pascal J. Goldschmidt, M.D., an internationally renowned cardiologist and cardiovascular researcher, is Senior Vice President for Medical Affairs and Dean of the University of Miami Leonard M. Miller School of Medicine. He also serves as Chief Executive Officer of the University of Miami Health System (UHealth), which includes three hospitals and more than two dozen outpatient facilities in Miami-Dade, Broward, Palm Beach and Collier counties.

Dr. Goldschmidt, whose research applies genomics and cell therapy to the prevention, diagnosis and treatment of coronary artery disease, was previously chairman of the Department of Medicine at Duke University Medical Center. Before taking the chairman's role, he served as chief of Duke's Division of Cardiology. Before joining the Duke faculty in 2000, he was director of cardiology at The Ohio State University College of Medicine and Public Health, where he built the Heart and Lung Research Institute and launched a heart hospital.

A native of Belgium, Dr. Goldschmidt received his medical degree from the Université Libre de Bruxelles and completed residency in Brussels at Erasme Academic Hospital and in the United States at Union Memorial Hospital and cardiology fellowship at the Johns Hopkins University. Following his training at Hopkins, he served as an assistant professor and then associate professor in the university's Division of Cardiology in the Department of Medicine, and in the Department of Cell Biology and Anatomy and the Department of Pathology until 1997.
